This project is an interactive, community based art installation that highlights and celebrates the intersection of people's experiences and art. Using blue LED light, Berger and team members will illuminate the memories of those who were lost and injured in Isla Vista by bridging our separate communities and creating something hopeful, beautiful and powerful. Whether the community uses the installation to provide a sense of “breaking free,” to connect with fellow participants, or to feel enveloped in soothing light, Berger, Jakubka, and Birkett hope that participants will take advantage of the many cathartic elements of the piece.
