Discussion held.

Commissioner's Comments:

Chair Suding stated that art is important for the community. There should be more flexibility with the guidelines, and he requested that Mr. Limón revise them for further commentary.

Commissioner La Voie suggested that art created on buildings be presented in an architectural context.

Commissioner Murray reiterated that the Historic Landmarks Commission has the right to protect the El Pueblo Viejo district and the context of the history when considering art proposals.

Commissioner Winick acknowledged that having a way of controlling the art so it's appropriate to the architecture and is contained would be a good approach to a proposal.

Commissioner Drury suggested all art be initially presented before the Visual Arts in Public Places.

Commissioner Mahan affirmed that the art proposals would be judged on their compatibility with the architecture, not whether the art was good or bad.
