The purpose of this handout is to provide guidance on the City’s appeal process. Most discretionary actions by the City are appealable decisions.

Appeals must be in writing, must include the reason(s) for the appeal, and require a filing fee. See “Filing Procedures” for further information.

All appeals must be filed within 10 calendar days of the appealable action/decision unless otherwise noted below.

Appeals involving California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) decisions may be processed differently. Please consult the project's case planner and/or the City’s Environmental Analyst for guidance on the appeal process for CEQA decisions.

Please note that as of October 1, 2017, the City of Santa Barbara’s new Zoning Ordinance (Title 30) is effective in all inland areas. The City’s existing Zoning Ordinance (Title 28) remains effective in the Coastal Zone and for all discretionary projects that were deemed complete, received a land use approval (e.g., Modification), or Design Review Project Design Approval, or ministerial permits that have a permit issued prior to October 1, 2017, and have not expired. SBMC §30.205.150 Appeals, outlines the appeal process for projects including those that are appealable to the Coastal Commission.
