

TEMPORARY CERTIFICATE OF OCCUPANCY INSTRUCTIONS

A Temporary Certificate of Occupancy (TCO) enables occupancy or partial occupancy of a building before the building project is completed. A TCO may be granted for a reasonable timeframe if the Building Official finds that no substantial hazard or discrimination will result from such occupancy. Each TCO request is evaluated on a case-by-case basis.

6. Signatures of both Business/Property Owner and Construction Company.
7. Email address to which the approval/denial will be sent.

3. Additional Inspection Requirements:

If the Fire Department has signed the Fire Final on the permit card and all other final inspections are approved, then your Building Inspector has the authority to grant temporary occupancy. Follow these steps:

- Call the Building Inspector (805-564-5492) and request an inspection for temporary occupancy.
- Provide the Inspector with an Official TCO Form completed as described in step 2 of this bulletin at time of inspection. If approved, the inspector will identify the requirements and limitations applicable to your TCO on a correction notice and give you a copy. If the inspector approves the TCO, they will input into City Permit records.

4. You can submit your TCO form and a fee of $985.00 by mail or by dropping it off to Building & Safety Division at 630 Garden Street, Santa Barbara, CA 93101

For expedited service, please fax the completed TCO form along with a completed Fee Payment Form (linked below) to fax number (805) 564-5476

5. Requests are typically processed in one to three business days from date received. If approved, the TCO request letter will be endorsed and a copy will be emailed to the applicant. The endorsed letter constitutes a TCO (Temporary Certificate of Occupancy). No occupancy of the building may occur until authorized by the Building & Safety Division and a copy of the endorsed letter is available at the site.
