

MEASURE C – 2009

MEASURES SUBMITTED TO THE VOTERS

PARKS AND RECREATION COMMISSION

C 2009	Shall the City Charter be revised by amending Charter Section 809 and Charter Section 810 to combine the Board of Park Commissioners with the Recreation Commission to form a new commission called the "Parks and Recreation Commission" and to allow the City Council to appoint a youth member of the new Parks and Recreation Commission?	YES
		NO

CITY ATTORNEY'S IMPARTIAL ANALYSIS OF MEASURE C – 2009

This ballot measure would amend the City Charter to combine the language of existing Charter section 809 ("Board of Park Commissioners. Powers and Duties") with the language of existing Charter section 810 ("Recreation Commission. Powers and Duties") in order to form a new combined City "Parks and Recreation Commission."

The proposed Commission would consist of seven (7) commissioners whereas the existing separate Commissions have five (5) commissioners each. For the most part, the powers and duties of the proposed new Commission will be the same as that of the separate Commissions. However, this measure would also grant the proposed new Commission authority to advise the City Council on matters concerning creeks within the City.

The proposed ballot measure would also authorize, but not require, the City Council to appoint a youth member of age 16 years or older to the proposed Parks and Recreation Commission so long as the youth member appointed resides within the City. The manner of appointing the youth member and the term of office for the youth member would be established by an ordinance to be adopted by the City Council. This City ordinance would also establish a process for appropriately transitioning from the existing two Commissions to a new combined seven (7) member Commission.

ARGUMENT IN FAVOR OF MEASURE C

A vote for Measure C is a vote for efficiency in government, increased citizen oversight, and recognition that our youth must be a part of ending youth violence in Santa Barbara.

A “yes” vote formally consolidates two five-person commissions, the Parks Commission and the Recreation Commission, into one seven-person commission to save money and staff time. It will also mean there are seven citizens that can hold city staff accountable for the condition of our parks and the results of our senior and youth recreation programs.

A “yes” vote allows a youth leader to inform the commission and vote on matters of direct concern for children and teens. There have been incredible young leaders emerging from our youth council for many years, which are making a positive example for a population that is in real trouble.

A “yes” vote will allow the City Council to appoint a youth representative to one of the seven seats of the Parks and Recreation Commission. The Council will not be forced to appoint one if no one between the age of 16 and 18, and all financial decision made by the body go on to the Council for final approval.

Teens today are confronted with a host of responsibilities and challenges. We ask them to avoid drugs, pregnancy, and gangs. We need recreation programs that help keep our kids out of trouble. To do this effectively, we need a youth member that can speak for them on the Parks and Recreation Commission.

These changes have been requested by both the Youth Council and the Parks and Recreation Commission and now we have brought them to you the voters for approval.
